

PRIVACY STATEMENT

The Elevation Factor (TEF) respects the privacy of every individual who visits our websites. The purpose of our Privacy Policy is to outline the information TEF may collect and how we may use that information.

As technology continues to develop, our privacy policy may need changing in order to provide the best possible service to our site visitors. We would recommend you to check and make sure that you have read our most recent policy statement when you visit our websites.

Currently TEF does not collect any personally identifiable information about you (i.e. your name, address etc.) through our website. Only when you voluntarily contact us will we have your information.

TEF may use the information provided by you (together with other information we hold or obtain) to send you information and offers about our goods and/or services which we believe may be of interest to you. This may involve contacting you by post, email or telephone.

We also offer you an "opt-out" option at any time should you wish to cease receiving e-mails or other information from us.

We do not now and do not currently intend to give or sell personal information about you to third parties.

We currently do not collect technical information automatically when you connect to our site which is not personally identifiable. We do not use "cookie" technology and IP addresses to obtain non-personal information.